Creating your vision through planned giving

By Tim Flemming, Executive Director,
AHC Foundation

Once heard someone say that planned giving was really about "the vision that you, as a donor, have for creating the future."

Much like the early settlers of the Santa Ynez, Lompoc and Santa Maria Valleys who shared a common vision about the future and potential prosperity of the Central Coast region, a carefully planned gift today will create the future of our communities.

You might say these early pioneers were creating a legacy, much like the legacy donors to the Allan Hancock College Foundation have created over time. With names like Adam, Smithers, Robinson, Young, and Rick, to name a few, their legacy continues at Allan Hancock College through annual scholarship awards to deserving students, the building and renovation of classrooms and facilities on our campus and centers, and direct financial support to programs and departments across the college.

Some initial steps you might consider toward creating your vision through a planned gift include:

- Be sure to have a will—with-out one, you may lose control over your belongings.

- Include a charitable organization like Allan Hancock College as a beneficiary in your will and/or pension plan, IRA, or life insurance policy.

- Consider contributing to a charitable gift annuity. The gift annuity is just one of several planned gift tools that will provide you income for life, an immediate tax deduction, and the comfort of knowing that your vision for the future is secure.

A planned gift is your vision for creating the future through Allan Hancock College. To learn more about how you can begin to create your legacy, log on to the foundation's web site at www.ahcfoundation.org, or call our office at (805) 925-2004.

Dr. Rob Holdsambeck joins AHC Foundation board

The AHC Foundation continues to draw upon the services of distinguished community members who are leaders in their own right and have now come forward to help lead the foundation as members of the board of directors.

Dr. Rob Holdsambeck is a licensed psychologist, board certified behavior analyst, and director of Holdsambeck & Associates in Lompoc. He relocated to the Central Coast in 1977 after receiving his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Florida, attending the University of San Francisco where he received his Ed.D. in psychology, and while serving as a Captain in the United States Air Force-Reserves. Dr. Holdsambeck has taught psychology and behavior management courses at the University of Florida, the University of San Francisco and most recently as a tenured instructor at Allan Hancock College. Dr. Holdsambeck believes serving on the Allan Hancock College Foundation Board of Directors will provide him the opportunity to find ways to support Hancock's students—our future leaders.

The Joe White Memorial Dinner & Auction

Sponsored by the Allan Hancock College Boosters, Inc.

■ Join us as we celebrate and pay tribute to Joe White's contributions to Allan Hancock College athletics and the community of Santa Maria. The proceeds raised through this event will complete our commitment to replace the college's gym floor and bleachers in Joe's name. This is a unique opportunity to show our appreciation by passing on Joe White's legacy to new generations.

Allan Hancock College Foundation awards over $200,000 in scholarship funds

The Allan Hancock College Foundation awarded 253 scholarships totaling $200,720 to 181 top students on Thursday, May 27. Nearly 1,000 students, relatives, friends, donors and community members attended the college's 35th annual scholarship ceremony at the Allan Hancock College Sports Pavilion. Scholarships ranging in amounts up to $10,000 were awarded to students from all parts of the Central Coast, from Solvang to the Five Cities area.

The theme for the annual scholarship event was "Community Supporting Community." A total of 130 donors from the community awarded scholarships to both returning and transferring students through the Allan Hancock College Foundation scholarship program.

The top scholarship winner was Jennifer Abby Oehler of Santa Maria, who received the prestigious $5,000 Marian Hancock Scholarship. The scholarship is named for Marian Hancock, the wife of Capt. G. Allan Hancock, for whom the college is named.

To learn more about the scholarship program or how you can contribute to student success at AHC, contact the foundation office at 925-2004.
